

AGREEMENT

Dated: 15th July 2019

Between:

Sparatech (Sparatech)

and

Green Distillation Technologies Corporation Limited
(GDTC)

Whereas Sparatech has developed a system whereby waste heat can be converted to electricity and GDTC has heat as it's only waste stream.

GDTC has offered, and Sparatech accepted, to run data collection tests on its plant in Warren NSW at no charge to GDTC under the proviso that all data collected will be the property of Sparatech for their use in promoting their technology.

Sparatech has offered, and GDTC accepted, an exclusive right to the installation of Sparatech's technology in the tyre recycling industry globally, subject to mutually acceptable terms. Under the presumption that the technology produces economically viable power supply to the plants, GDTC will install on every plant globally.
